An Invitation to the High Road

“The unleashed power of the atom has changed everything save our modes of thinking...We shall require a substantially new manner of thinking if mankind is to survive.”

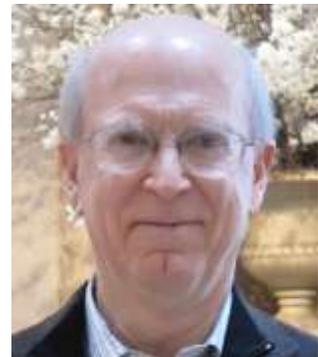

--Albert Einstein

Our technological development is presenting us alternately with the means to create a vastly better life for everyone, or to destroy ourselves utterly. The outcome of this transition is dependent on how we organize our affairs and conduct our relationships with each other—our politics.

In The Politics of Unity, Michael Cuddehe identifies the primitive thinking, perverse incentives and political dynamics keeping us divided, distracted, and stuck on the low road of endless conflict, and then lays out 10 steps to the restoration of a healthy political process, opening the door to the creation of a better, more sustainable world, utilizing our technology for the good of all.

The Politics of Unity is a guide to the high road in political process; a social blueprint for a better world.

Michael Cuddehe is a veteran market analyst, trader and fund manager. He began his career in financial management in 1979 at the Kansas City office of Dean Witter Reynolds, now part of Morgan Stanley. In 1981 he registered as a Commodity Trading Advisor, subsequently generating a consistently successful and often top ranked track record.

Mr. Cuddehe has spent the last 40 years tracking and analyzing global political and economic trends and developments. Currently he is the President of Strategic Global Advisors, LLC. He is the publisher of Risk & Opportunity, a quarterly political and economic newsletter, and the author of Chronicle of Catastrophe: A Contemporaneous History of the Bush Years, and has been active in politics as a candidate for U.S. Representative, and as a member of the Platform and Executive Committees of the Natural Law Party.
